FROM THE ARTISTIC DIRECTOR

ADREAM BECOME REALITY! The International Accordion Celebration is the result of a commitment I made some three years ago to prove that the accordion does belong in our concert halls, to be used with our finest orchestras and our finest chamber groups.

The response of the artistic community in Toronto to my project has been overwhelming – not a single musician, not a single musical organization bowed out.

The artists from abroad believed and supported me, realizing that what I would organize needed their participation.

Our work does not end with this magnificent event. We can improve. Already, decisions have been reached to follow up with a major accordion event in Holland in 1995, and in Finland in 1997. We will learn by sharing in the strengths of this Celebration and push ahead to an even stronger artistic credibility in these future projects.

This event was my way of saying thank you to my colleagues, the pioneers of the concert accordion who, like myself opened the doors for the futures of our talented young people. I hope that tomorrow, our youth will participate fully and be the pillars of sustained organized artistic endeavours.

I thank everyone whether performer, delegate, competitor, sponsor, supporter or volunteer for being part of this reality. We can proudly and critically acclaim that the accordion is in the prime of its new artistic life.

Joseph Macerollo
Artistic Director

Prime Minister of Canada

I am delighted to convey my warmest greetings to everyone attending the International Accordion Celebration in Toronto.

This unique week-long tribute to the concert accordion, featuring performances by a selection of distinguished international artists, the Toronto Symphony, and other talented groups, should prove most entertaining. The presence of such a wealth of talent, as well as the organization of numerous workshops and a competition for young musicians, make this a event a full and fitting tribute to the versatility and appeal of this instrument.

Please accept my best wishes for an enjoyable and successful celebration.

I am very pleased to extend greetings to all the delegates, artists and competitors attending the International Accordion Celebration in Toronto. Welcome especially to all those who have travelled from outside of Ontario.

This is, indeed, a great moment in history for concert accordion as it is integrated into the musical life of Toronto. As accordion players from around the world join together in concert, they should take great pride in the knowledge that they bring pleasure to so many people through their music.

Special recognition must go to the organizers of this event who have dedicated much time and energy in helping to establish Canada as a world leader in the acceptance and use of concert accordion.

Best wishes for a successful and memorable celebration.

GREETINGS INTERNATIONAL ACCORDION CELEBRATION March 26 to April 4, 1993

As little as thirty years ago, no serious classical musician would be caught anywhere near an accordion. Indeed, it was considered an instrument best suited for folk songs, polkas and endless dazzling renditions of "Lady of Spain".

But times have definitely changed. The accordion has metamorphosed into a fine classical instrument, and it now enjoys an enhanced reputation among the cognoscenti of musical circles. Composers who once eschewed the instrument, are now composing music for it. This year, virtuosi from twenty-five countries will gather in Toronto to celebrate the integration of the concert accordion with symphony orchestras and classical artists.

On behalf of my colleagues on City Council, it is a pleasure to welcome all those taking part in this exciting musical event, and extend best wishes for a successful celebration.

GREETINGS

On behalf of the Members of Council and the residents of The Municipality of Metropolitan Toronto, I would like to welcome delegates from around the world to our Municipality and to the first ever International Accordion Festival. I am delighted to learn that this innovative event will place Metropolitan Toronto and Canada at the forefront of concert accordion music.

I extend my heartiest congratulations to festival organizers on developing a highly creative and stimulating program which includes the premiere of a number of new Canadian and international compositions. We, in Metropolitan Toronto, are particularly enthusiastic about, and proud of, the involvement of our local cultural community. Visitors will have an excellent opportunity to enjoy the work of some of the most accomplished artists and ensembles from this diverse and vibrant sector.

Please accept my best wishes for success in this exciting and important event.

POEMS OF KONSTANTIN BAL'MONT

The Flower

The forget-me-not is blooming
All for you, my love, for you,
By a brook its petals growing
Opening their tender blue.
Then at night when starlight looks
Down on you to shine,
When the dawn breaks night's last star
Fading seems to say.

"Will you be mine?"

The forget-me-not is blooming
Tender eyes so sweet and blue,
Do you hear me, lovely flower?
Listen to the flower's voice!

The Dove

On the window sill the rose
And there on the roof the dove,
Do you see them now, oh look!
The dove flying to the rose?
Red the flower, white the dove,
Red and white together lie,
White and red together love,
But then the dove flies away.
Oh my beautiful white dove,
You forgot my sill above,
Oh my beautiful white dove,
Fly back to your waiting love.
(English text: Robert Craft)

DEUX POÈMES DE KONSTANTIN BAL'MONT

Myosotis, d'amour fleurette

Myosotis, d'amour fleurette
Tendre fleur des doux aveux,
Pour ma mie, la mignonette
S'ouvrent les pétales bleus.
Et l'eau claire sur les pierres,
Est plus belles où tu fleuris,
Ta soeurette, étoile claire,
Dans le ciel brille et sourit.
Myosotis, d'amour fleurette,
Petit oeil si doux, si bleu,
Fleur douce, mignonette.
Entends-tu mon tendre aveu?

Le Pigeon

L'oiseau sur le toit se pose,
Où donc? Là le voyez-vous
Le pigeon si blanc, si doux?
La fleurit la rouge rose.
Le pigeon s'est approché,
Sur la fleur il s'est penché.
Il la charme, il la séduit,
Puis, volage, il s'enfuit.
Hélas, joli pigeon blanc,
Ne fuis pas, sois moins méchant.
Hélas, joli pigeon blanc,
Reviens donc pour un instant!
(Version française: M.D. Calvocoressi)

JAPANESE LYRICS

Akahito

I have flowers of white,
Come and see where they grow
in my garden.
But falls the snow
I know not my flowers from flakes of snow.

Mazatsumi

The Spring has come.
Through those chinks of prisoning ice
The white flocs drift, foamy flakes that sport and play
In the stream: how glad they pass, first flowers that
Tidings bear that spring is coming.

Tsaraiuki

What shimmers so white far away?
Thou wouldst say 'twas nought
But cloudlet in the midst of hills: full blown are
The cherries; thou are come, beloved springtime!
(English Text: R. Burness)

TROIS POÉSIES DE LA LYRIQUE JAPONAISE

Akahito

Descendons au jardin;
Je voulais te montrer les fleurs blanches
La neige tombe...
Tout est-il fleurs ici, ou neige blanche?

Mazatsumi

Avril paraît. Brisant la glace de leur écorce
Bondissent joyeux dans le ruisseau
Des flots écumeux
Ils veulent être les premières fleurs
blanches
Du joyeux Printemps.

Tsaraiuki

Où aperçoit-on si blanc au loin?
On dirait partout des nuages
entre les collines:
Les cerisiers épanouis
Fêtent enfin l'arrivée du Printemps
(Version française: M. Delage)

PRIBAUTKI

Uncle Pierre

Get a move on, Uncle Pierre!
Put the reins on the old grey mare.
Off you go to Makary's inn
And drown your sorrows in the gin.
Drink one glass and then another,
Drink till you're no longer sober.
Drink makes your happiness complete
So get it down and enjoy it!

Natasha

Natasha, Natasha,
Little cream cracker!
Sweet as honey,
Coy and comely,
Quite undefiled.
The ducks play the pipes,
The cranes join in dance.
With long legs they prance,
Sticking out their long necks!

The Colonel

A colonel, he went hunting,
And soon he caught a quail.
The quail, she was so thirsty,
She spread her wings and took to flight,
But as she rose, down she fell right
through the ice,
And there a priest he caught her,
A priest who was a priest's son,
Pyotr Pyetrovich!

The Old Man and the Hare

The town's surrounded by a hush
And in that town there stands a bush,
In the bush is sitting a man,
Warming some punch up in a pan.
A hare now, squinting, rushes up
And asks if he may have a cup.
And then the man begins to talk
And tells the lame man
he should walk,
The armless man to stretch his arm,
The naked man to rummage with his palm.
(English text: A. Newcombe)

PRIBAUTKI

L'Oncle Armand

Console-toi, vieil oncle Armand,
Tu t'fais bien trop mauvais sang,
Laisse aller tout droit ta jument
À l'auberge du Cheval Blanc:
Là est un joli vin clair,
Qui fait soleil dans le verre;
Le joli vin rend le cœur content:
Noie ton chagrin dedans.

Le Four

Louise, viens vite,
Viens vite, ma fille;
La pâte est levée
Cours à la cuisine
Chercher la farine
Les canards commencent à souffler
Dans leurs mirlitons crevés.
Voilà! coq qui leur répond
Et les poules qui tourment en rond

Le Colonel

Le colonel part pour la chasse,
Tir' sur un' bécass', manqué sa bécasse,
Tir' sur un' perdrix, la perdrix s'enfuit,
Tombe et cass' son fusil;
Il appell' son chien, son chien
n répond rien;
Sa femme l'a reçu, sa femme l'a battu
Chass'ra jamais plus.

Le Vieux et le lièvre

Dans un' ville en l'air,
Un vieux assis par terre.
Et puis voilà qu'le vieux
Fait cuir' sa soup sans feu.
Un lièvre sur la route
Lui demande sa soupe.
Et l'vieux a dit comm' ça,
Au bossu d'se tenir droit,
Au manchot d'étendr' les bras
Et au muet d'parler plus bas.
(Version française: C.F. Ramuz)

PAUL VERLAINE POEMS

Sleep and black shadow

Sleep and black shadow
Weigh on my conscience:
Now slumber, my hopes,
Now slumber my longins!
I discern no more,
I lose all remembrance,
Of evil and good:
O distressing story!
I am a cradle
Swung in a cavern
Of sadness and night...
Be silent, be silent!

A Moonlight Pallid

A Moonlight Pallid
Gleams through the woods;
A voice is singing
In every grove.
Come through the foliage,
O well beloved!
The tarn now mirrors
In waters deep
The trembling shadows
Of willow trees
Where winds are moaning,
Let float thy fancy.
Tranquility, peaceful repose,
Descends and covers
The earth and skies
All iridescent.
O minute enchanting!

DEUX MÉLODIES D'APRÈS

PAUL VERLAINE

Un grand sommeil noir

Un grand sommeil noir
Tombe sur ma vie:
Dormez, tout espoir,
Dormez, tout en viel
Je ne vois plus rien,
Je perds la mémoire
Du mal et du bien...
Ô la triste histoire!
Je suis un berceau
Qu'une main balance
Au creux d'un caveau
Silence, silence.

La lune blanche

La lune blanche
Luit dans les bois;
De chaque branche
Part une voix.
Sous la ramée
Ô bien aimée
L'étang reflète,
Profond miroir.
La silhouette du saule noir
Où le vent pleure
Rêvons: c'est l'heure.
Un vaste et tendre
Apaisement
Semble descendre
Du firmament,
Que l'astre irise
C'est l'heure exquise.

MIGUEL ANGEL BUSTOS

Siete Textos

Abre la puerta, la única puerta.
La puerta del Sueño.

Mata el pájaro, Guarda el canto.

Afuera oygo la lluvia,
adentro siento la lluvia.
Mi cuerpo de barro se deshace.

Señor siente latir mi látigo.
Señor siente mi corazón.

Estrangula el viento.
Quitale los plumas.
Un Fenix arde, la muerta es
su horizonte.

Salve cielo, aleluya.
Tienes sol tienes luna.
Yo tengo un corazón naciente.

Silencio. Te estan oyendo los muertos.

MIGUEL ANGEL BUSTOS

Six Textes

Ouvre la porte, la seule porte, la porte du rêve.

Tue l'oiseau. Préserve le chant.

Dehors j'entends la pluie, dedans je sens la pluie.

Mon corps d'argile se décompose.
Monsieur, écoutez claquer mon fouet.

Monsieur, écoutez mon coeur.
Étrangle le vent. Prends lui les plumes.

Un phoenix ardent, la mort est à son horizon.

Ciel serais tu salues alleluia.
Tu as le soleil et la lune.

J'ai un coeur éveillé.
Silence. Les morts t'entendent.
(French text: Christine Pate)

MENSCHENLOS

Wer weiß, ob wir nicht lange, lang schon sterben?

Der Wolkenball mit uns strebt immer höher.

Die dünne Luft lähmt heute
schon die Hände
Und wenn die Stimme bricht und unser
Atem steht...?
Bleibt die Verwunschenheit für letzte Augenblicke?

LIEDER VON EINER INSEI

Es ist Feuer unter der Erde,
und das Feuer ist rein,

Es ist Feuer unter der Erde
und flüssiger Stein.

Es ist ein Strom unter der Erde,
der strömt in uns ein.

Es ist ein Strom unter der Erde,
der sengt das Gebein.

Es kommt ein grosses Feuer es kommt ein strom über die Erde.

Wir werden Zeugen sein.

LE GUETTEUR MÉLANCOLIQUE

Venez, venez fillettes
Faut pas rester sur terre
Vaut mieux, vaut mieux mourir

Et dardant un rayon
Tandis qu'elles trois courent
Après un papillon

Il enflamme les filles
les trois fillettes brunes
Soleil faut – il mourir

On vit trois étincelles
Et puis plus rien le rêve
le rêve et le soleil

THE ACT

There were the roses in the rain.
Don't cut them, I pleaded.
They won't last, she said
but they're so beautiful where they are
Agh, we were all beautiful once,
she said
and cut them and gave them to me in my hand.

GUILLAUME APOLLINAIRE (1880-1918)

TOUJOURS

Et tant d'univers s'oublent
Quels sont les grands oublieurs
Qui donc saura nous faire oublier telle ou telle partie du monde
Où est le Christophe Colomb à qui l'on devra l'oubli d'un continent

INGEBORG BACHMANN (1926-1989)

LIEDER AUF DER FLUCHT

die rastlose Erde
mit ihren zuckenden Magnetfeldern, die sich hier selbst fesselte
mit ihr noch unbekannten Kraftketten, diese betäubte und betäubende Erde mit Nachtschattengewächsen bleiernen Giften und strömen von Duft –
untergangen im Meer
und aufgegangen im Himmel die Erde!

FRANZ KAFKE: EIN BRUDERMORD

Es ist erwiesen, daß der Mord auf folgende Weise erfolgte:
Schmar, der Mörder, stellte sich gegen neun Uhr abends in der mondklaren Nacht an jener Straßenecke auf, wo Wese, das Opfer, aus der Gasse, in welcher sein Bureau lag, in jene Gasse einbiegen mußte, in der er wohnte.

Kalte, jeden durchschauende Nachtluft. Aber Schmar hatte nur ein dünnes blaues Kleid angezogen; das Röckchen war überdies aufgeknöpft. Er fühlte keine Kälte; auch war er immerfort in Bewegung. Seine Mordwaffe, halb Bajonett, halb Küchenmesser, hielt er ganz bloßgelegt immer fest im Griff. Betrachtete das Messer gegen das Mondlicht; die Schneide blitzte auf; nicht genug für Schmar; er hieb mit ihr gegen die Backsteine des Pflasters, daß es Funken gab; bereute es vielleicht; und um den Schaden gutzumachen, strich er mit ihr violinbogenartig über seine Stiefelsohle, während er, auf einem Bein stehend, vorgebeugt, gleichzeitig dem Klang des Messers an seinem Stiefel, gleichzeitig in die schicksalsvolle Seitengasse lauschte.

Warum duldete das alles der Private Pallas, der in der Nähe aus seinem Fenster im zweiten Stockwerk alles beobachtete? Ergründe die Menschennatur! Mit hochgeschlagenem Kragen, den Schlafrock um den weiten Leib gegürtet, kopfschüttelnd, blickte er hinab.

Und fünf Häuser weiter, ihm schräg gegenüber, sah Frau Wese, den Fuchspelz über ihrem Nachthemd, nach ihrem Manne aus, der heute ungewöhnlich lange zögerte.

Endlich ertönte die Türglocke vor Weses Bureau, zu laut für eine Türglocke, über die Stadt hin, zum Himmel auf, und Wese, der fleißige Nachtarbeiter, tritt dort, in dieser Gasse noch unsichtbar, nur durch das Glockenzeichen angekündigt, aus dem Haus; gleich zählt das Pflaster seine ruhigen Schritte.

Pallas beugt sich weit hervor; er darf nichts versäumen. Frau Wese schließt, beruhigt durch die Glocke, klirrend ihr Fenster. Schmar aber kniet nieder; da er augenblicklich keine anderen Blößen hat, drückt er nur Gesicht und Hände gegen die Steine; wo alles friert, glüht Schmar.

Gerade an der Grenze, welche die Gassen scheidet, bleibt Wese stehen, nur mit dem Stock stützt er sich in die jenseitige Gasse. Eine Laune. Der Nachthimmel hat ihn angelockt, das Dunkelblaue und das Goldene. Unwissend blickt er es an, unwissend streicht er das Haar unter dem gelüpften Hut; nichts rückt dort oben zusammen, um ihm die allernächste Zukunft anzuzeigen; alles bleibt an seinem unsinnigen, unerforschlichen Platz. An und für sich sehr vernünftig, daß Wese weitergeht, aber er geht ins Messer des Schmar.

»Wesel« schreit Schmar, auf den Fußspitzen stehend, den Arm aufgereckt, das Messer scharf gesenkt. »Wesel! Vergebens wartet Julia!« Und rechts in den Hals und links in den Hals und drittens tief in den Bauch sticht Schmar. Wasserratten, aufgeschlitzt, geben einen ähnlichen Laut von sich wie Wese.

»Getan«, sagt Schmar und wirft das Messer, den überflüssigen blutigen Ballast, gegen die nächste Hausfront. »Seligkeit des Mordes! Erleichterung, Beflügelung durch das Fließen des fremden Blutes! Wese, alter Nachtschatten, Freund, Bierbankgenosse, versickerst im dunklen Straßengrund. Warum bist du nicht einfach eine mit Blut gefüllte Blase, daß ich mich auf dich setze und du verschwändest ganz und gar. Nicht alles wird erfüllt, nicht alle Blütenträume reifen, dein schwerer Rest liegt hier, schon unzugänglich jedem Tritt. Was soll die stumme Frage, die du damit stellst?«

Pallas, alles Gift durcheinander würgend in seinem Leib, steht in seiner zweiflügelig aufspringenden Haustür. »Schmar! Schmar! Alles bemerkt, nichts übersehen.« Pallas und Schmar prüfen einander. Pallas befriedigt's, Schmar kommt zu keinem Ende.

Frau Wese mit einer Volksmenge zu ihren beiden Seiten eilt mit vor Schrecken ganz gealtertem Gesicht herbei. Der Pelz öffnet sich, sie stürzt über Wese, der nachthemdbekleidete Körper gehört ihm, der über dem Ehepaar sich wie der Rasen eines Grabes schließende Pelz gehört der Menge.

Schmar, mit Mühe die letzte Übelkeit verbeißend, den Mund an die Schulter des Schutzmannes gedrückt, der leichtfüßig ihn davonführt.

ACCORDION OF THE EARTH.

High in the Andes, a procession makes its way to church from town to the strains of ancestral Inca music played on an accordion. From the pubs of Ireland to the dance bands of Africa. From the bayous of Louisiana to the farmhouses of Quebec, the accordion is the instrument of the earth, beloved of unpretentious folk who rejoice, celebrate and make music together to its sweet, rhythmic strains.

ACCORDION OF THE SKY.

Now a technically sophisticated instrument, the accordion assumes its role as a woodwind in classical and contemporary orchestras. The free-bass accordion has single notes on both hands allowing it to play two voices, like a pianist, over 5 1/2 octaves. Skilled contemporary virtuosi performing transcriptions of the classical repertoire, now astonish and delight their audiences in concert halls worldwide with a fresh, pleasing sound, full of expression and variety. Responding to its range of acoustic effects, progressive composers have favoured the accordion in some of the most advanced, experimental music of our day. And visionary accordionists have been enthusiastic about positioning their instrument on the very forefront of contemporary creativity.

Glenn Gould's So you want to write a Fugue a work for vocal quartet and strings received its premiere performance under Di Bello in a CBC television special in 1963. The relationship continued until Gould's death in 1982, at which time Di Bello and Gould had been co-producing a recently released Sony compact disc, Glenn Gould Conducts Wagner's Siegfried Idyll.

One flight up from Eglinton, expect to dally here a while trying out the different styles of instruments and chatting with Matt about the 'greats' he has known along the way:

Charles Magnante, Art van Damme, Myron Floren. Matt interrupts to assist a young beginner with a tiny accordion, offering words of encouragement, or he holds the phone to your ear as one of his clients in Newfoundland plays a reel on his button accordion, long-distance. In the background, a professional experiments with a MIDI instrument he longs to own. At the back of the shop, Rudy DeFlorio, Matt's son, tunes each of the 600 reeds in a client's instrument, practicing a rare skill he has learned during years on the job and during training in Italy.

You may tell yourself you are walking in simply to enjoy the friendly atmosphere, but it is hard to leave without dreaming about an instrument you have tried with the sweetest, richest sound you have ever heard...

CONCERTO FOR ACCORDION AND ORCHESTRA R. MURRAY SCHAFER

Completed in late 1992, the work was commissioned by The Toronto Symphony, with financial assistance from both The Canada Council and the Ontario Arts Council. It is dedicated to the artist Joseph Macerollo, who first began a collaboration with Mr. Schafer in 1970, a working relationship which led to significant accordion parts in The Patria Cycle, most notable being La Testa d'Adriane from The Greatest Show.

The special challenge of a concerto acting as the focal point of the International Accordion Celebration taking place this week in Toronto created a wonderful stimulus for this commission.

The concerto is in the traditional three movement form, FAST, SLOW, FAST, with several cadenza-like passages throughout. The most unconventional feature of the concerto is the featuring of such low colours as bass clarinet, contrabassoon, horn, bass trombones, that blend well with the dark sonorities of the accordion. Constantly shifting rhythmic meters add incredible excitement.

The concerto will stand as a testament to the versatility of the instrument. Schafer has expanded the creative potential of the accordion with this fine contribution to the accordion concerto repertoire.

VICTOR DI BELLO

*Pro Arte Orchestra
Conductor*

Born in Toronto, of Italian parents, Mr. Di Bello began his musical career there, studying piano and composition at the Royal Conservatory of Music. Having organized his own orchestra at the age of 17, he began conducting and giving concerts. In 1957, he presented his Pro Arte Orchestra, a professional ensemble of thirteen string players, in its first annual series in the library of the Casa Loma. He continued his debut, at the age of 24, as a guest conductor of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra.

In 1958, he was awarded a scholarship to study at the Berkshire Music Centre, Tanglewood. From 1958 to 1962, Mr. Di Bello was resident conductor and music director of the Hamilton Philharmonic Orchestra. In the summer of 1960 and 1961, he worked with the National Youth Orchestra in Stratford. His conducting activities with the Pro Arte Orchestra over the following years included annual performances of Handel's Messiah and guest appearances with the CBC String Orchestra. ## ROB DU BOIS

Rob du Bois was born in Amsterdam in 1934. He studied piano with Hans Sachs and Mrs. T. Hart Nibbrig-de-Graeff. He is a self-taught composer. Since 1959, du Bois has been a member of the Gaudeamus group of composers. He later became a member of the board of the same foundation. He is head of the jury department of Buma, the Dutch performing rights society.

His work won international recognition between 1967 and 1969 through performances in Zagreb in 1967 and 1969, the Warsaw Autumn and at the 1967 ISCM festival in Prague. Many of his works are written at the request of performers, sometimes through commissions by the Netherlands Government or by other special funds. One such commission was the Polonaise (1971) for piano and percussion. His output, which comprises about 80 works, is written for small groups with widely varied instrumental combinations. One large-scale piece is the Concerto pour Hrisanide (1971) for piano and orchestra. In May 1991, Rumanian musicians gave a concert in his honour in Bucharest, performing a number of his works. In 1966, du Bois was awarded the Visser-Neerlandia prize for his Pour deux violons.

DUO NOVAIR

Henri Bok and Miny Dekkers have been colleagues at the Rotterdam Conservatory of Music for many years and have played many concerts together, in groups such as 'DC + M2'. Over the years they have felt the need to work more and more together as a duo and to concentrate on works for accordion and bass clarinet/alto saxophone. After a concert tour in Canada in the fall of 1991 they decided to officially name their duo 'DUO NOVAIR' - a name referring to new music (NOVA) performed on two instruments on which sound is produced through (AIR). The unique and unconventional combination of bass clarinet/alto saxophone and accordion proves to be very colourful and interesting. This particular combination appeals to contemporary composers who are able to explore not only the contrasts between the two types of instruments, but also the perfect blend of the lower registers of the bass clarinet and the bass of the accordion.

A concert of the DUO NOVAIR is a unique experience: accordion and bass clarinet/alto saxophone - new music' instruments par excellence combining to form a musical unity.

DAVID EAGLE Composer

David Eagle studied music at McGill University, the Staatliche Hochschule für Musik in Freiburg, Germany, and the University of California, Berkeley. As well as composing chamber and orchestral music, in recent years he has cultivated an interest in computer applications to composition and improvisation. His music has been performed and broadcast internationally, including the Holland Festival, ISCM World Music Days, International Accordion Festival (France), Computer Music '90 (Tokyo) and Glenn Gould Conference (Toronto). Since 1990, he has been Professor of Theory and Composition and Coordinator of the Electroacoustic Music Studio at the University of Calgary.

His two works for accordion include a solo piece called Bellwind and Trillium Wind for accordion, percussion and cello.

MOGENS ELLEGAARD Accordionist

Back in 1958, he persuaded the young Danish composer Ole Schmidt to write an accordion concerto for him. The sensational premiere performance with the Danish Radio Symphony Orchestra was followed by numerous performances with European orchestras. Since then Mogens Ellegaard has collaborated with numerous Danish and foreign composers in the creation of an original repertoire for the classical accordion; solo works, chamber music, concertos and pedagogical literature. Among the composers: Vagn Holmboe, Per Nørgård, Ib Nørholm, Neils Viggo Bentzon, Hans Abrahamsen, Poul Rovsing Olsen, Arne Nordheim, Antonio Bibalo, Ketil Hvoslef, Finn Mortensen, Miklos Marós, Torbjorn Lundquist, Jindrich Feld, Darius Milhaud, Zbigniew Bargielski, Andrzej Krzanowski. Ellegaard has performed this music in solo recitals and chamber music concerts at such places as Moscow, New York, Tel Aviv, Amsterdam, Rome, Paris, Dublin, Reykjavik, Zagreb, to name a few. He has been a soloist with London's Royal Philharmonic, the Detroit Symphony, the Toronto Symphony, Südwestfunk Symphonie Orchester, Stockholm, Oslo and Helsinki Philharmonic orchestras, BBC Scottish Symphony, and of course all of the Danish orchestras. He appears often at international festivals such as Warsaw Autumn, I.S.C.M., and Bergen. Mogens Ellegaard was appointed professor at the Royal Danish Academy in Copenhagen a few years ago, having been head of its accordion department since 1970. Since 1989, he has also been head of the accordion faculty of the Hochschule für Musik und Darstellende Kunst in Graz Austria. Internationally he is a highly esteemed teacher who has conducted master class courses and seminars; for example at Warsaw's Chopin Academy, Helsinki's Sibelius Academy, Trossingen Bundesakademie (Germany), Conservatories in Holland, Spain, etc. Among his many students are practically all accordion teachers who presently teach at Scandinavian

Last year the trio was featured in the Austrian Styriarte Festival and the Helsinki Festival. He is a founding member of the International Accordion Society.

MARY LOU FALLIS

Soprano

Recently, Mary Lou Fallis returned from her highly successful engagement at the Edinburgh Festival and an extensive tour of the United Kingdom (including performances at the Convent Garden International Festival, the Wexford Opera Festival, Belfast Festival and a fundraising tour for the Scottish Opera). Mary Lou Fallis continues to amuse audiences with Primadonna, the Mrs. Bach Show, and most recently, Ms. Mozart. In addition to her foreign engagements, Mary Lou regularly crisscrosses North America. Always intelligent, always funny, Mary Lou entertains with her irreverently perceptive humour and accomplished vocal talent.

Mary Lou made her operatic debut at 15 years of age as the Second Spirit in a CBC-TV production of Mozart's The Magic Flute. The holder of a Master's degree from the University of Toronto Faculty of Music, her career has encompassed performances of major oratorios and choral works with leading orchestras, as well as opera - her roles ranging from Despina in Così fan tutte to Zerbinetta in R. Strauss's Ariadne auf Naxos.

Mary Lou makes her home in the beaches area of Toronto with her husband, two children and a very woolly dog.

HARRY FREEDMAN

Composer

Harry Freedman, O.C., was born in Poland in 1922 and came to Canada with his family when he was three. His early training was as a visual artist but during his teens he began to develop an interest in jazz which soon spread to classical music. At eighteen, he made the break and began studying clarinet. After four years in the RCAF during the war, he came to Toronto to study oboe (with Perry Bauman) and composition (with John Weinzwieg) at the Royal Conservatory of Music. The following year he joined the Toronto Symphony as its English horn player, a post held for 24 years until he resigned in 1970 to devote his full time to composing. Freedman is one of Canada's most frequently performed composers.

His output consists of some 160 compositions, including 3 symphonies, 9 ballets, 2 hour long stage works, as well as various works for orchestra, choir, chamber groups, and much incidental music for stage, TV and film.

He is a founding member of the Canadian League of Composers and an Officer of the Order of Canada. He lives in Toronto and remains one of a handful of composers of concert music who earn their livelihood solely from their music. His wide experience in all musical fields has enabled him to write in many different idioms all of which have contributed to and are recognizable in his musical style. Downwind is his first work for accordion.

THE ESPRIT ORCHESTRA

The Esprit Orchestra is a Toronto orchestra, dedicated to the performance and commissioning of contemporary music. It was established in 1983 by Alex Pauk, and was known as Esprit Contemporain until 1986. Its first concert, was given with the assistance of the National Youth Orchestra in Kingston, Ontario in 1983. Esprit performed works by Garant and Louie and premiered two commissioned works: Alchemies by John Burke and Vanishing Points by John Rae, thus establishing a pattern that has characterized the orchestra's subsequent programs. It has performed at the ISCM World Music Days in Toronto, September 1984, when it premiered Brian Cherney's Into the Distant Stillness... and Pauk's Mirage.

In December 1985, Esprit gave concerts in Montreal and Quebec City.

When the orchestra gave its first three-concert series in early 1986, it began to include new music of international, as well as Canadian composers into its programs.

Its annual series (from three to five concerts per season), which have been held for the most part at the St. Lawrence Centre, have included guest artists such as Robert Aitken, flute; Erica Goodman, harp; Scott Irvine, tuba; Rosemarie Landry, soprano; Joseph Macerollo, accordion; John Kimura Parker, piano; and David Waterhouse, bagpipes.

Together with the Société de Musique Contemporain du Québec, Esprit presented, in 1988, a concert of commissioned works at the Arts Festival of the Calgary Olympics, which included Pauk's Split Seconds, Rea's Time and Again, and Allan Bell's Concerto for Two Orchestras.

Esprit has commissioned and premiered works by numerous Canadian composers.

The orchestra also has given the Canadian premieres of music by John Adams, William Bolcom, David Del Tredici, Gyorgy Ligeti, Steve Reich, and Iannis Xenakis. Esprit has appeared on four films produced by Rhombus Media, and most concerts have been broadcast on the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

She received her training at the Royal Conservatory of Music (Toronto), the National Music Camp (Interlochen, Michigan), and the Curtis Institute (Philadelphia). She has appeared as a soloist at numerous international festivals, as well as with leading orchestras and ensembles in Canada, the United States and Europe, including regular appearances with the Elmer Iseler Singers, New Music Concerts and the Amadeus Ensemble, as well as with flutist Robert Aitken.

Ms. Goodman made her New York debut as a soloist with the National Arts Centre Orchestra, during that orchestra's American debut concert at Lincoln Centre in 1972. Recent performances include a concert with Heinz Holliger at the Tanglewood Music Festival; concerts with the Bath International Ensemble at Wigmore Hall, London, in Pittsburgh PA, and at the Festival of Sound in Parry Sound, Ontario; a tour of Holland, Belgium and Israel with oboist Lawrence Cherney: the Scotia Festival, Halifax.

Following a concert at the North American New Music Festival in Buffalo, music critic Richard Chon extolled, "The real star of the afternoon was Erica Goodman, a stunningly virtuosic harpist whose very presence on the scene is an incentive for the creation of new works." Canadian composers thus inspired include Alexina Louie, Oskar Morawetz, Milton Barnes, Srul Irving Glick, Marjan Mozetich and Lothar Klein.

Ms. Goodman can be heard in several recordings on the BIS, Marquis, Truly Fine Records and CBC labels with such artists as Robert Aitken, Paul Brodie, the Amadeus Ensemble, and also in solo concert.

JOSEPH MACEROLLO Accordionist

Joseph Macerollo is a consummate musician, performer, educator and organizer. The realization of this International Accordion Celebration March 26-April 4, 1993 represents his ultimate achievement, a masterful integration of the classical accordion into the musical life of Toronto. Previous organizational accomplishments include LUMINA Project 1989, Soundscape Canada 1981, and the International Accordion Symposium 1975.

As an educator, he pioneered the acceptance of the accordion at the Faculty of Music, University of Toronto and at Queen's University in Kingston. He has lectured, given workshops, written articles and reviews of concerts and taught history of music, analysis, and the interpretation of contemporary music courses.

As an administrator, he is presently President of three organizations, namely New Music Concerts, Pro Arte Orchestra and The Classical Accordion Society of Canada Inc. He is on the board of directors of the following: Canadian Music Centre (Ontario Region), Mississauga Music Council, Mississauga Civic Centre Opera, Guelph Performing Arts Centre. He is a founding member of the International Accordion Society headquartered in Finland.

He has won numerous awards and citations, has represented Canada in two world accordion championships, received the Guelph Civic Ring, and was named Mississauga Musician of the Year in 1987.

As a performer, he has appeared with major orchestras such as the Toronto Symphony, McGill Chamber Orchestra, National Arts Centre Orchestra, Victoria Symphony, Kitchener-Waterloo Symphony, such major ensembles as Nexus Percussion Ensemble, Orford String Quartet, Purcell String Quartet and countless ensembles of variable combinations. He has concertized extensively throughout North America and has travelled and toured to most major capitals of Europe.

He has commissioned countless works of Canadian composers ranging in style from traditional to theatrical and he has gained as a performer respect for the instrument in all venues. Clearly, he is close to the pulse of the arts in Canada.

His textbook, The Accordion Resource Manual, stands as a marvellous achievement of methodology and scholarship and is widely used internationally. The International Accordion Celebration, is his dream come true.

Leeuw in 1971. Jokinen currently works as a lecturer in music theory and composition at the Sibelius Academy. Since 1982 he has been a trustee of the Society of Finnish Composers.

Jokinen is known as a composer who weighs every element in his compositions with great care. He does not attach himself to any school, although he has been influenced by various compositional movements. As a result, his scores reveal a richness in instrumental colour, evident in his Brass Quartet and Ce Geda composed for one of his favourite instruments, the cello. In the notation of his later works attention is fixed on melodic/rhythmic complexity, on the meticulous use of timbre, and on wide rapidly-moving textural changes. Jokinen's works have been performed in the Nordic countries, in Europe and in North America.

HOPE LEE Composer

Hope Lee was born in 1953 in Taiwan, the daughter of parents from mainland China. She was raised in Canada. In 1974, after obtaining a Bachelor of Science degree at the University of Toronto, she entered the Faculty of Music at McGill University in Montreal, where she completed Bachelor of Music and Master of Music degrees in composition. Her teachers included Bengt Hambraeus and Brian Cherney. During this period, she also attended the Darmstadt Ferienkurse für Neue Musik (1978) and the Durham 1979 Oriental Music Festival in England. Both events were important in shaping her musical development. Between 1981 and 1983, as a recipient of a DADD scholarship and a Canada Council grant, Hope Lee studied composition with Klaus Huber in Freiburg, West Germany. In 1982, she was invited to the first International Women's Composers' Conference in West Berlin. In 1985, she went to the Künstlerhaus Boswil in Switzerland as the composer-in-residence. In 1986-87, she was the visiting composition instructor at Queen's University in Kingston, Ontario. Her work has been presented at international contemporary music festivals on various continents such as Music Today'85 in Tokyo, and the World Music Days'87 of the ISCM in West Germany.

Presently, Lee lives in Calgary, Alberta. Lee's In the Beginning was the End (1988) was commissioned by Joseph Macerollo and harpsichordist Vivienne Spiteri under a grant from The Canada Council.

FRIEDRICH LIPS Bayanist

In 1974, he graduated from the post graduate course. Since 1971 F. Lips has been working at the Gnessin Institute. In 1989 he became a Professor. Among his many awards was the first prize in 1969 at the Klingenthal Competition. Friedrich Lips has appeared in concert halls for more than twenty years, showcasing his instrument in every large industrial and cultural centre of Russia. He has a creative collaboration with many composers writing original creations for solo bayan as well as ensemble combinations. Friedrich Lips was the first to perform works dedicated to him by such composers as Eugeniy Derbenko, Sofia Gubaidulina and others.

He has toured France, Spain, Italy, Austria, USA, Canada, Japan, Holland and Germany. He has performed with the best orchestras and under such conductors as Rozhdestvensky, Agarkov, Hoose (USA), Pfaff (France), and Takahashi (Japan).

A number of collections for bayan, scientific works and articles have been published by him. Lips often appears as a member of judges' panels in competitions. He has taken part in international seminars and given pedagogical courses in Norway, Denmark, Poland, and France. Friedrich Lips has been awarded a honorary title of Merited Artist of Russia. He is a founding member of the International Accordion Society.

ALEXINA LOUIE Composer

Alexina Louie was born in Vancouver, British Columbia in 1949. Ms. Louie completed undergraduate work at the University of British Columbia and continued her graduate studies with Pauline Oliveros and Robert Erickson in California where she received a Master's degree in composition at the University of California at San Diego. Since returning to Canada in 1980, she has been commissioned by all the country's major new music groups as well as by many well known performers. Named composer of the Year in 1986 by the Canadian Music Council, her works have been recognized by the Juno Awards for best classical composition 1988 and the selection of Music For a Thousand Autumns for performance in Hong Kong in 1988 by the International Society for Contemporary Music. In the music of Louie one finds an emphasis on craft and imagination stemming from a wide variety of influences. These range from her Chinese heritage to her thorough theoretical and historical studies. Besides her work in California with Pauline Oliveros in sonic meditation and composition, her other studies at the University of California at San Diego introduced her to a new way of listening to sound. Having never studied orchestration formally, she credits her unique approach to instrumental colour to the timbral experiments completed with Robert Erickson, her work with the meditation ensemble, and her explorations in electronic media. At this time she was also exposed to the music of China, Japan, Korea, India and Indonesia and began studies in the ancient Chinese zither, the ch'in, with Lui Trun-Yuen at UCLA. Many of her works explore the contrasting principles of yin and yang. In a single work one might find extremes of dark and light, lyricism and percussiveness, or intense personal introspection and exuberant extroversion. Through her on-going investigation of scores, recordings, literature, poetry, visual arts, personal introspection as well as continuous composition, she has developed a uniquely personal, expressive style which has as its root a blending of east and west. Since 1980 Louie has made her home in Toronto where she works as a free-lance composer, working in all media including dance, film, and television.

Refuge (1981) for accordion, harp and vibraphone was her first commission from the Ontario Arts Council. Her other work for accordion was Earth Cycles (1987) for accordion and prepared tape. The latter will receive a unique transcription performance by Ellegaard, Bene and Sørensen on March 30, 1993 at the du Maurier Theatre Centre.

MAGNUS LINDBERG Composer

Magnus Lindberg was born in 1958. He began playing the piano at the age of 11 and entered the Sibelius Academy when he was 15. His first teacher in composition was Einojuhani Rautavaara, but he also studied under Paavo Heininen, before graduating from the Academy in 1981. Since then he has received private instruction from Gérard Grisey and Vinko Globokar in Paris. He has also attended courses given by Franco Donatoni (Siena) and Brian Ferneyhough (Darmstadt). Magnus Lindberg has studied electronic music under Osmo Lindeman at the Sibelius Academy, and at the EMS studio in Stockholm. The music of Magnus Lindberg has its roots spreading in many directions. Even at the very start of his career he was operating between two forces many would claim belong to completely different worlds. On the one hand he was governed by his great talent and serve as a musician (Lindberg is an excellent pianist and has given the first performance of many new Finnish works for piano), while on the other hand he was fascinated by strict structures. He is probably the first Finnish composer to exploit as a matter of course serial constructions of a mathematical nature (i.e. his results are not achieved by devious means). Lindberg's music has subsequently been pervaded by a strong, spontaneous need for expression, in which dramaturgy has taken the leading role.

NMC also brings to Toronto noted international composers, whose compositions represent a cross-section of contemporary music.

Among the outstanding composers who have appeared are: Berio, Bussotti (Italy), Cage, Carter, Feldman, Glass, Reich (U.S.A.), Maxwell Davies, Ferneyhough (U.K.), Kagel, Zimmerman, Huber, (Germany), Ligeti (Hungary), Lutoslawski (Poland), Nordheim (Norway), Takemitsu (Japan), Xenakis (France), and many Canadians including Beckwith, Garant, Mather, Pentland, Schaffer, Somers, Tremblay, Weinzwieg, among others.

NORMAN SYMONDS

Composer

He was born and grew up in British Columbia. Mountains, the sea and Duke Ellington were, in that order, his first outside influences. At eighteen, he became a warrior (cook/naval). When that was done, a musician, (clarinet/dance band). Finally, though he became a leader - a group of like-minded musicians, (composition/jazz), bent on adding yet another crease to the face of jazz. He doubts that he caused anything more than a blink, but it helped to launch him. In 1957, Stratford, Ont. "Jazz at the Festival" - he and the Dave Brubeck Quartet - Success!

At the invitation of CBC Radio, a work for jazz and symphony, the result, his Concerto Grosso, featuring the Ron Collier Quintet with the, then, CBC Symphony, Feldbrill, conductor - Success!

He became a protagonist in the CBC arena, many projects, many techniques. He enjoyed their action in both their media and eventually came to understand them, especially radio. A decade followed of work (s), love(s) and laughter - then he grew restless...

He went for a drive in a camper; five months, 25,000 miles, up, down, through and around Canada, a haunted country and I found much inspiration - landscapes, legend, fact, fiction - and he's still dipping into it.

He has changed, of course, in 40 odd years of action. Mountains now give him headaches, the sea evokes nostalgia, and old Duke? - hell, he keeps comin' round and round.

Symonds has written major works for the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, Esprit Orchestra, the National Youth Orchestra and the National Arts Centre Orchestra. Also, numerous feature productions for both radio and TV (CBC).

LASSE PIHLAJAMAA

Accordionist, composer

Lasse Pihlajamaa was born in 1916, and is an exceptionally distinguished pioneer among Finnish accordion players. As a musician, composer and teacher he is entirely self-taught. Pihlajamaa's virtuosic pieces are at the forefront of the entire Nordic accordion repertoire. His compositions were played, particularly in the 1950's and 1960's by Mogens Ellegaard, whose development Pihlajamaa influenced. Many of Pihlajamaa's compositions are genial characterizations inspired by the Finnish landscape. His dance music has been influenced particularly by the French musette tradition and that of the Argentinian tango.

In 1957 Lasse Pihlajamaa founded a private accordion school in Helsinki. For the next fifteen years, hundreds of accordion players, among them Ikkela, Rantanen, Kelopuro, Tynkkynen, Velamo, Mattila, and Loponen, studied there.

At the beginning of the 1960's Pihlajamaa collaborated with the Italian accordion factory Pignini to develop accordion models suitable for young people. A further collaboration between Lasse Pihlajamaa, Mogens Ellegaard and the Pignini factory, led to the converter free bass accordion which is used in many countries today. Lasse Pihlajamaa has given concerts in the Nordic countries, the Confederation of Independent States (formerly the Soviet Union), the United States and Japan. He was a member of the jury for the Coupe Mondiale contests in 1959, 1968 and 1974.

R. MURRAY SCHAFER

Composer

R. Murray Schafer, one of the few Canadian composers to have earned an international reputation, is not only a familiar name in Canada, but has had important performances in the United States and Europe. He is known not only as a composer, but as an environmentalist, educator, literary scholar, visual artist, and a man of the theatre. His writings, particularly on music education and the world soundscape, have been translated into five languages. His work continues to fascinate audiences through its romanticism, its intriguing theatricality, and its virtue of permanent surprise. Schafer has attracted attention with a series of dramatic spectacles which, since his move to an Ontario farmhouse in 1975, have been created for specific environments, often outdoors. Schafer's unique dramatic flair often distinguishes his music. But in the large catalogue, he has amassed an astonishing diversity of works, both large and small, vocal and instrumental. Since 1965, Schafer has been creating a series of full-length dramatic pieces under the collective title Patria. Several pieces are performed at less traditional sites, such as the shore of a small lake at dawn for The Princess of the Stars. Perhaps most radical of all is Ra, a musical drama based on an Egyptian myth which begins at dusk and lasts through the night. In 1987 and in 1988, The Greatest Show, the third in the Patria series, was performed outdoors. The Greatest Show incorporates singers, dancers, actors, and musicians. The audience is not spectator but rather the participant. Mr. Schafer is recognized for his work in music education. He taught at the Communications Centre at Simon Fraser University in British Columbia from 1965 to 1975. His book, The Tuning of the World, is the result of his research into the sonic environment and the "soundscape" is the concept that unifies most of his work. Throughout his career, Schafer has accumulated an impressive number of awards and commissions both national and international. He is the only North American recipient of the French Prix Honegger (1980, String Quartet No. 1). When Gita won the Fromm Foundation Award in 1972, U.S. critic Irving Lowens declared, "Schafer ran away from the field." He has received a Guggenheim Fellowship (1974), Performing Rights Organization of Canada's Wm. Harold Moon Award (1974), the Canadian Music Council's medal (1972) and its first "Composer of the Year" award (1976), as well as the Jules Leger Prize for New Chamber Music (1977, String Quartet No. 2). In 1980, he received an honorary LL.D from Carleton University in Ottawa. Mr. Macerollo's association with Mr. Schafer began in 1970 as the result of a suggestion by Mr. Keith MacMillan (then the Executive Secretary of the Canadian Music Centre) to create a workshop tape on the classical accordion for the composer (then living in Vancouver). As a result, the accordion was incorporated into such

In 1989, he abandoned his teaching in order to work full-time as a composer. Straesser wrote a number of essays on a variety of musical subjects, most noteworthy being his analyses of the works of Anton Webern. An extensive article about the development of Straesser as a composer was published in Key Notes, a Dutch music magazine. He himself wrote an article for the same magazine on the composer Jacques Bank. At this moment, his output comprises about 80 works for various instruments and settings, among which he shows a preference for the human voice. Most interesting is 22 Pages for three male voices and orchestra on texts by John Cage performed during the ISCM Festival in Stockholm (1966). In 1958 his work Psalm 148 won the first prize in a composers' competition, organized on the occasion of the 75th anniversary of the 'Maastrichter Staar'. ## THE TORONTO SYMPHONY

In the 70 years since its inception in 1922, The Toronto Symphony has achieved world-wide recognition and acclaim. Its music directors have included Luigi von Kuinits, Sir Ernest MacMillan, Walter Susskind, Seiji Ozawa, Karel Ancerl, Andrew Davis and currently maestro Gunther Herbig who assumed the directorship at the start of the 1988-89 season.

During its first 60 years, the orchestra made its home in Toronto's Massey Hall. At the beginning of the 61st season in September 1982, The Toronto Symphony moved to its new home, Roy Thomson Hall.

National and international tours are an important part of the orchestra's performance schedule. In May, 1991, Gunther Herbig led The Toronto Symphony on its fourth and most recent tour of Europe, launched by performances in Glasgow, London, Paris, Munich, and Hamburg. In 1990, under Gunther Herbig, the TSO toured the Pacific Rim with appearances for the first time ever by a major Canadian orchestra in Australia, Singapore, and Taiwan. It has toured the Far East on two previous occasions, including a historic tour of Japan and the People's Republic of China in 1978. The orchestra's third tour of Europe was led by Andrew Davis in 1986. Encompassing eleven countries and seventeen concerts in Europe and Britain, this trip was notable for bringing the first Canadian orchestra to Edinburgh Festival, the BBC Proms, the Flanders Festival and to tour Scandinavian countries. The 1987 Canadian Odyssey, visiting 13 cities in Northern Ontario, Western Canada and the Far North, was the most recent illustration of the Symphony's long-standing commitment to music in Canada.

The Toronto Symphony began making recordings during the tenure of Music Director, Sir Ernest MacMillan and has recorded for RCA, CBC, CBS Masterworks and EMI/Angel. In 1986, the orchestra won its most recent Juno Award from the Canadian Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences for Holst's The Planets with Andrew Davis conducting on the EMI/Angel label. Handel's Messiah with Kathleen Battle, and The Toronto Mendelssohn Choir was released in November, 1986. It received lavish critical praise and rose to the top ten on the Billboard Magazine's Top Classical Albums chart, so successful that a Messiah Highlights record followed in July 1988. Most recently the orchestra released Rachmaninoff and Willan with pianist Arthur Ozols on the CBC SM5000 label with Mario Bernardi conducting. Gunther Herbig was appointed Artistic Advisor for 1988-89; became Music Director Designate in 1989-90 and assumed the full title of Music Director in September, 1990.

HARRI WESSMAN

Composer

The seeds of Harri Wessman's (1949) musical career were shown when, as a schoolboy, he played cello and double bass in the Tapiola school choir and orchestra, established by Erkki Pohjola, at a time when the now celebrated Tapiola Choir was experiencing its first decisive successes. Wessman studied musicology and languages at Helsinki University (1967-73) and composition at first privately under Joomas Kokkonen and later under him at the Sibelius Academy (1973-8). Harri Wessman's compositional output has, consisted largely of chamber music and vocal music. He enjoys composing material adaptable for pedagogical purposes. He is also fond of writing programmes for unusual instrumental combinations as well as for instruments for which there is a shortage of repertoire. His style is often characterized as melodic and lyrical. Critics have suggested that he is opposed to the postserialist music of today preferring to compose as a "green spirit".

Included among van Beurden's compositions of the last few years are works for soprano and accordion ensemble, a clarinet quartet (1981), Konsertante muziek II (1984) for violin, viola and a large wind ensemble, La Messe (1988) for mezzo-soprano, accordion, violoncello and large wind ensemble, a work for bassoon and percussion (1990), Passio diaboli, a chamber opera with text by Wiel Kusters, and Op weg (1992) for string orchestra. These and other compositions have been commissioned by the Fund for the Creation of Music under the auspices of the Ministry of Culture, the cities of Amsterdam and Rotterdam, and several provinces and organizations.
